

Young Onset Parkinson Conference

Doubletree Hotel, Sacramento

Second in a series of conferences for those living with young-onset Parkinson's Disease

The 2nd in a series of Young Onset Parkinson's Conferences (YOPC) co-sponsored by the National Parkinson Foundation (NPF) and the American Parkinson Disease Association (APDA) will be in Sacramento on Friday and Saturday, March 12-13, at the Doubletree Hotel. The 2-day event features experts from throughout the United States speaking on a variety of Parkinson's disease topics.

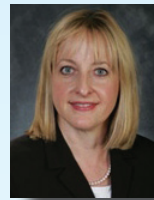

March 12 & 13 2010

Featured Speakers

Michael S. Okun, MD
Co-Director, Movement Disorders Center, University of Florida
Medical Director, National Parkinson Foundation

The Electric Brain: Tailoring DBS Therapy for Parkinson's Disease Patients

Melanie M. Brandabur, MD, MDS

Clinical Director, The Parkinson's Institute, Sunnyvale, California

Complementary Therapies: Expanding your Symptom Management Options

Michael J. Aminoff, MD, DSc, FRCP

Department of Neurology, University of California, San Francisco

Update on Gene Therapies for PD

Jay Alberts, PhD

Lerner Research Institute, Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Ohio

Forced Exercise Provides Benefit Similar to Levodopa

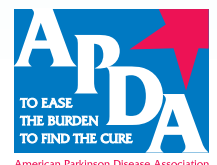

Special Features

Open Mike - Michael S. Okun, MD - Moderator of NPF's popular "Ask the Doctor" forum on Parkinson.org will be conducting an open question and answer session.

Dance for PD is a unique collaboration between the Mark Morris Dance Group and the Brooklyn Parkinson Group. David Leventhal, a member of the Mark Morris company since 1997, will lead a dance class for people with Parkinson's disease.

A block of rooms is being reserved for conference attendees. To reserve a room, call 1-800-222-TREE (8733). In order to take advantage of the conference rate, you must specify that you are part of the "NPF/APDA Young Onset Parkinson Conference." Register online at www.parkinson.org or www.apdaparkinson.org.

Volunteers are needed to help with the event.
Please contact PANC if you are interested at 1-866-979-PANC.